NC SERIES/FURNITURE

Introduction

Building on the emotional relaxation that Japanese culture demands from its bathroom spaces, TOTO has produced an extension of its revolutionary toilet products. The furniture range mirrors Japanese culture in its aim to remain tranquil and serene at all times. Although tradition is placed at the heart of the pieces of furniture this is not at the expense of luxurious elements.

Within the NC Series furniture collection there are distinct designs each of which have been tailored to partner a specific TOTO range. Having a choice is also important, so that whether you require either a matching or a contrasting look to your existing TOTO products there are options available.

If you prefer a difference in form then the more angular NC Series/S displays perpendicular lines for a regimented feel. Similarly two colour palettes are provided which cater for a preference for a coordinated white glossy finish or a divergent oak veneer, wenge colour-stained appearance.

A union between the curved, natural-looking NC Series basins and NC Series/R range provides a uniform arched shape to the entire bathroom suite. The NC Series/R has two colour options – lacquered white matt or veneer walnut, which can either match or contrast with the pure white of the NC Series washbasins.

NC Series/S White

In keeping with the high functionality of the TOTO WASHLET products the NC Series/S White makes timeless design its focus. The straight horizontal and vertical lines of the collection enable the four different units to present a consistent visual theme that distinguishes them from the organic curves of the washbasin and toilet. The cubic forms can be combined in a diverse set of ways that offer different storage options through the bathroom.

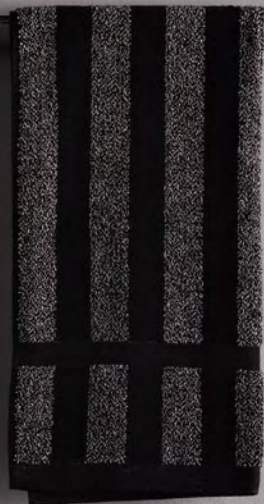

NC Series/S Dark

Upright beams of soft glowing light indicate the NC Series basin while stimulating different visual senses compared with the rounded WASHLET architecture. The NC Series/S Dark has a water-resistant, lacquered veneer surface which highlights any object placed on its surface. The contrast against a dark background further enlivens the difference of the white toilet colour and distinguishes different bathroom areas.

Wall cabinet with and without door

Based on a classic cube shape the NC Series/S counter cabinet is open on all sides with two self-contained levels to give marked storage areas. A matching mirror is flanked by vertical light bars that provide a balanced, strong light. The cube is also the starting point for the modular wall cabinets that can be attached singularly, in horizontal rows or vertical columns. The wall cabinets come in two distinct forms; one has a push-open catch, while the other is open with four equally sized shelves.

TOTO

NC Series/R White

TOTO's NC Series vessel basin is the starting point for the curved shape and colour of the NC Series/R White range of bathroom furniture. Each item is composed of blended wood covered by a matt lacquered surface. The modular nature of the range allows for harmonious positioning in any area that reflects Japanese creativity in its best use of available space.

NC Series/R Walnut

Tradition is a very strong driver of Japanese culture and the NC Series/R Walnut veneer choice reminds you of the natural world matched with the water-resistant properties of a seamless surface. The different colour provides a distinction to the uniform pure white fittings of the NC Series washroom fittings, while matching the natural curved forms that are present throughout all the objects.

A walnut veneer of the counter cabinet highlights the serene white colour of the NC Series washbasin and features two drawers that can be accessed by a push-open and close mechanism. Two integrated sockets inside the drawers provide extra convenience. The natural lines of the suite are enhanced by the wall cabinet with its rounded corners matching the counter cabinet, mirror and basin. Completing the bathroom suite is a mirror, which can be hung horizontally or vertically, and is a perfect complement to the wall cabinet.
